Woman Struck While Crossing Scholls Ferry Road

Summary of Event:

A 66-year-old woman was crossing SW Scholls Ferry Road yesterday when she was struck by a car and critically injured. The woman driving the car didn't see the pedestrian because the sun was in her eyes.

Details of Event:

On Tuesday, November 03, 2009, at about 3:30 p.m., Washington County Sheriff's Deputies responded to a person hit by a car at the intersection of SW Scholls Ferry Road and SW Stephens Lane in the community of Raleigh Hills.

Deputies determined that 66-year-old Susan Ogilvy of Raleigh Hills was crossing SW Scholls Ferry Road and was struck by a Jaguar traveling southwest on Scholls Ferry from SW Beaverton Hillsdale Highway. The female driver of the car said the sun was in her eyes and she could not see Mrs. Ogilvy crossing the street. Witnesses said Mrs. Ogilvy did not look both ways prior to crossing the road and stepped into the path of the oncoming car.

Mrs. Ogilvy was transported by ambulance to OHSU where she is currently listed in critical condition with a head injury.

Deputies had SW Scholls Ferry Road shut down for about two hours while they investigated the crash.

The driver of the car was not arrested and no citations were issued.
