29 Years of Clean Audits for Fire District 3

Brush Prairie, Wash. – Clark County Fire District 3 recently achieved its 29th straight year of clean financial and accountability audits conducted by the Washington State Auditor’s Office. Fire Chief Scott Sorenson says that the audit has always been a priority for the fire district.

“We are committed to managing resources responsibly,” said Chief Sorenson. “Stewardship is the key, we make it a focus.”

The audit, completed in late 2017, is designed to ensure compliance and adequate safeguarding of public resources, and includes a review of internal controls for the fire district. The audit process involved performing procedures to see how the fire district uses public resources and complies with state laws and regulations.

Community members can review the most recent audit reports by visiting the Washington State Auditor’s web site at <http://portal.sao.wa.gov/reportsearch>.
